

Common module

Contains code shared by all modules. Examples are utils and configuration loading. Only code generic to all other java modules should be located here to avoid a bloated common module.